polities.

Mr. Kaulia rises to explain that, in advocating Hawailan independence, he takes pattern of the Irish home rulers. Sure, then, he'll be after getting up a Fenian raid on Necker Island,

Members of the reconstructed Board of Health must think themselves all right when none of them wants to be president.

Right does not balance wrong George Washington's truth-telling did not make a new cherry tree sprout.

It would pay Honolulu as a community, pending municipal incorporation, to put up enough additional capital for double tracking the rapid transit system throughout. As sure as sunshine, a single-track electric car system will be found out of date before it is in operation six months. Do not take chances of having our streets encumbered with another huge transportation solecism. Cut this out and keep it until the time arrives.

The conscription of an international battalion of pugilists to fight the Boxers in China is hereby recommended to the allied powers. It would be no sacrifice at all for civilization to make, while it ought to give a bloodless triumph over the Oriental anarchists. Through their practiced skill in wrangling over preliminaries of combat, the pugs could wear out the pigtails without striking a blow. "The "open door" might be slammed shut for the experiment, so that the rough jawers could scoop gate money for their services.

Anti-Expansion doesn't want Uncle Sam to leave his happy home to work for civilization abroad.

Mr. Bryan would make himself solid in Hawali if he could administer a 16 to 1 shot to plantation stocks. Fiat payment of delinquent shares would make things hum.

Mr. Kaulia should be informed that the Congress of the United States has absolute power over the Territory of Hawaii, and will not waste much time in suppressing disloyalty to the Nation on the part of any Hawaiian faction or party. Hawaiian revolutions are not necessarily past, but hereafter their scene will be laid in Washington,

The Neill Company.

A most delightful and artistic performance of "Lady Windermere's Fan' was enjoyed by a well filled house last night. Miss Clapham was slightly artificial in the second act but soon threw herself into the part and gave an excellent performance of Mrs. Erylane. Miss Grace Mae Lamkin again added to her admirers by her clever interpretation of Lady Windermere and Lil-Ilian Andrews as The Duchess of Berwick was "scandalously" amusing.

Mr. Neill was seen to advantage in 1868 another style of character and upheid his reputation for versatility, Mr. How-MERCHANT - TAILOR and was splendld throughout, as much can be said for the balance of the cast. The stage settings were elaborate and in good taste. There was again the welcomed absence of "hand me your kind applause" effects. Even in the climax of the third act when there was every opportunity to become frantic no one forgot himself or went beyond the realistic. The perfect havmony and naturalness of the performances of the Neill company must be appreciated by all. Such good taste and thorough understanding of their art could not go unnoticed.
